

Importance of understanding stock market and day trading

TRADING TERMINAL.COM
FROM BEAR BULL TRADERS

Presented by:

Importance of understanding stock market and day trading

1) You will be able to make informed decisions on where and when to invest your hard-earned capital.

2) You can achieve growth of your personal wealth and finances at your own pace and will.

3) You can achieve financial freedom!

Importance of understanding stock market and day trading

4) You can make informed decisions on your day trading style, managing trades at your personal preferred pace and define your personalized approach to every possible transaction in the stock market.

5) Informed decisions allow you to maximize profits.

6) Informed decisions allow you to minimize losses.

Importance of understanding stock market and day trading

9) It will provide understanding of diverse market and intraday price movement dynamics and cycles, which again can help you achieve your financial and personal goals faster.

10) Through acquisition of trading and investment skills, you can achieve unique psychological growth and emotional discipline as a person. This is particularly true in day trading where every trader is dealing with number of feelings that are inevitable in fast paced environment.

Importance of understanding stock market and day trading

Stock market and day trading tell numerous stories of enormous successes and failures every single hour, day, month, year....

Please note again that both stock market and day trading in it is an environment where very rich people become very fast very poor due to their lack all of the trading skill or one of its components: trading approach (called strategy), unique trading mindset and the emotional discipline!

Importance of understanding stock market and day trading

Despite all of the tremendous downside of the stock market and day trading, including the many scandals and personal flaws, stock market and day trading gives us an opportunity for financial dreams to come true and/or to be financially independent individual in today's modern world!

It was never easier to place a trade than it is today given all the accessibility and all of the available information.

Better understanding of all nuances of the stock market and day trading and acquiring the trading skill will place you in better position to achieve your financial dreams!

Stock market is always on the move!

Stock market in the USA opens Monday through Friday from 9:30 AM till 4:00 PM.

Note A: 9:30 AM is also known as Opening Bell (Ding-ding-ding).

Note B: 4:00 PM is also known as Closing Bell (Ding-ding-ding).

This means that there is 6.5 hours, Monday through Friday, when highest number of stock market participants are involved in buying and selling.

Therefore, these 6.5 trading hours and 5 days a week are when most of the fortunes are either won or lost...

Note: It is advised for you to get involved in trades during these times when you are just starting out and when you become more proficient.

Stock market is always on the move!

There is also a possibility to trade outside the regular 9:30 AM - 4:00 PM hours, which is called after-hours trading.

Note: after-hours trading has much lower number of participants, which moves price more erratically and comes with even higher risk! It is advised to get involved in these times in advanced stage.

Now lets learn what is actually the stock market that everyone is talking about...